[New Braunfels, TX, NOV 2019] After nearly 15 years of owning Trailer-Alarms.com and successfully growing the online web presence from the ground up, Trailer Alarms, LLC was able to secure the domain name TrailerAlarms.com. The additional domain adds to their "fleet" of security domains.

"This adds even more legitimacy to us and our brand" said Lyle Clark, owner of the trailer security company. He adds, "It has taken a lot of time, persistence, and money to accomplish this".

##

About Trailer-Alarms.com Started in 2005 as a web-based trailer security company to be the "Jeggs" of theft prevention devices for trailers. In 2015 Trailer-Alarms.com purchased the manufacturing rights of the Pro-Tec System One trailer security system (the only system with a 5-year warranty), taking it home to their location in Texas. In 2016 Trailer-Alarms.com continued developing a trailer locking device, and in 2018 applied for a patent for that unit.

Nearly 15 years later, Trailer-Alarms.com has become the true leader in theft prevention devices for trailers, and then some.
